CITY AND COUNTRY TO WORK TOGETHER

ST. LOUIS ENDORSES NODAWAY COUNTY PLAN.

MUST GIVE REAL SERVICE

No Prosperity Until Farmer Can Make a Profit on His Products Says Henry S. Firestone.

Maryville and St. Louis, through their chambers of commerce, have realized that the true plan of national reconstruction is based upon the development of the various community units in the state, according to Secretary George A. Pickens, who returned yesterday morning from St. Louis, where he spent four days in studying how the local chamber can be made to render more efficient service for Nodaway County.

The officials of the St. Louis and Maryville chambers of commerce have agreed to work together, helping each other to solve our state and local community problems. To this end, Carl Baer of the development bureau of the St. Louis chamber visited Maryville some time ago, when he studied our local problems and carried to the members of the local chamber important data and figures on community problems in other parts of the country, bringing a message and verifying the Nodaway county plan of rendering personal service, as of the utmost importance in building up our local community.

The next step in the program of exchanging ideas and bringing the two communities into closer relationship was completed this week, when Secretary Pickens visited the St. Louis chamber, leaving here last Sunday night and returning yesterday morning.

Mr. Pickens felt very proud of the recognition shown Nodaway County and of the opportunity furnished him of showing the Nodaway County agricultual film and explaining to the St. Louis men how the farmers and business men of Nodaway county work together for community development. This idea, in which Nodaway county is a pioneer, the development service bureau will help to push.

"When the new agricultural film is completed, we want you to show it down here," said the St. Louis men, calling it one of the biggest ideas ever thought of for Nodaway County.

Mr. Pickens reported a wonderful series of luncheons at which the St. Louis business men get together each week. At a membership meeting held while he was there, the list of speakers included W. O. Winston of Minneapolis, president of the Association of contractors of America; Barney Bernard, one of the stage's best funmakers; and Harvey S. Firestone, "the man who camps with the President."

Winston predicted in his talk that the railroads would soon be under government ownership again unless some solution to their problems is found in the near future. He said that production all over the country is being stimulated, money getting easier, and better business in sight.

Firestone, a member of the famous camping quartet including Thomas A. Edison, Henry Ford and the late John Burroughs, whose place was taken this year by President Harding, spoke on "Why we lost our economic balance and how we can recover it." We substituted speculation for work and service, he said and to correct the situation now, men must give real service.

There is too much difference between what the farmer gets for his products and what the consumer pays for them, the tire manufacturer said. He cited figures from a dairy farm owned by him, showing the cost of production of milk to be 3½ cents a quart and the wholesale selling price 4 cents, the same milk is sold at retail nts.

cannot expect business to pros- ong as the farmer must sell his s at a loss," he said.

MARYVILLE LEADS AT END OF HALF

WEIGHT OF OPPONENTS FAILS TO STOP ZIEGLER'S MEN

M.H.S. 40; PATTONSBURG 0

O'Banion Runs Thirty Yards For First Touchdown—Second Made By Willoughby

BULLETIN.

The score at the end of the third period was Maryville 40 to Pattonsburg's 0.

In spite of the weight of the opposing team, Maryville High School took the offensive early in today's game with Pattonsburg on the College field and at the end of the first half was leading, 14-0.

Both touchdowns were made in the second quarter, the first after seven minutes of play and the second, with only forty seconds left before the end of the half. O'Banion made the first after a thirty yard run through a broken field, and Willoughby went through for the second. Masters kicked both goals.

Pattonsburg's vaunted 230-pounds center and massive pair of guards were unable to stop the plunges of the Maryville backs, while the ends were skirted with equal ease.

Maryville high school had a football game today, after all. After all efforts to schedule a game had apparently proved unavailing, Supt. L. E. Ziegler received a long distance call from Pattonsburg late yesterday afternoon saying that that school had had a game scheduled with Cameron for today, but that Cameron, after its defeat by Trenton yesterday, had refused to play today. The Pattonsburg team arrived in Maryville this morning.

The local team is in good condition, but some of the members who live in the country may be unable to get here in time for the game. Willoughby may be unable to play because of work which keeps him busy on Saturday. Masters and Sam England, linesmen, who have been on the injured list recently, are again in fair condition.

Coach Wolfenbarger of Pattonsburg, brought thirteen men with him to Maryville. They arrived this morning and will leave at 9:20 o'clock tonight.

Pattonsburg has lost only one game this season. It was to Smithville and the score was 62 to 0. As this was not a conference game it did not affect the standing of the team. The Pattonsburg coach claims that his team tied with the Cameron team for the championship of sub-district number two and that Cameron refused to play off the tie.

The teams that have been defeated by Pattonsburg are Kidder Institute, Stanberry, Plattsburg, Hamilton and Gallatin. Chillicothe will be their opponents Thanksgiving.

The team that went on the field this afternoon was one of the heaviest that Maryville has met this year. The line averaged 168 pounds and the backfield weighed around 160 pounds. The bulk of the team's weight is in the middle of the line. Pettit, 232-pound center, was flanked by James and Broadbeck at guards, weighing 182 and 170 pounds respectively. The lightest man on the team is Lockridge, who weighs 115 pounds, and plays end.

WILL ELECT NEW RED CROSS BOARD

ALL MEMBERS TO CAST VOTES NEXT TUESDAY

OFFICERS ARE APPOINTED

New Board Will Choose Chairman And Department Heads—May Still Answer Roll Call

The annual election of the board of directors of the Nodaway County Red Cross will be held next Tuesday, when eleven men and women to direct its activities will be chosen from a list of names prepared by nominating committee, last week. The election will be at the Red Cross Rooms, and votes may be cast at any time during the day.

The executive body has eleven members, elected annually. This board then chooses a chairman, vice-chairmen, secretary and treasurer for the chapter. The officers need not be chosen from the board of directors but may be selected from the membership at large. The chairmen of the three departments are also voting members of the board. Miss Betty Turner, executive secretary, and Mrs. Eva Hackney, county nurse, meet with the board but have no vote.

The nominating committee, composed of George Robb Ellison, F. S. King and Harry Todd, has prepared a list of eighteen names, from which the new board of directors shall be chosen.

The present board of directors is composed of Bruce Montgomery, chairman, F. S. King, Roy Hanna, Edwin Wells, Harry Todd, H. L. Raines, Ed Condon, Mrs. Ed G. Orear, Mrs. C. C. Hellmers and Miss Lucie Davis. George Robb Ellison is the chairman of the home service section, Bert Cooper of the nursing department, and Mrs. C. D. Bellows of the volunteer service department.

The receipts in the fifth annual roll call are being checked up this week by the various chairmen. Maryville is still lagging behind some of the other towns of the county. Some communities made very liberal contributions, while others did not respond so well. Several people have reported at Red Cross headquarters that they were missed by the solicitors and have asked to be given memberships. The offices are open every day, and many others who were missed may still take out memberships there.

CHINA'S FATE TO BE DECIDED TODAY

CONFERENCE GOES INTO EXECUTIVE SESSION.

JAPAN STATES POSITION

Would Respect China's Neutrality, But Might be "Necessary" to Traverse Her Soil.

Washington, Nov. 19.—China went on the witness stand before the powers today with Japan playing role of cross examiner.

The delegates of the nine powers went into secret session at 11 o'clock to consider China's case.

The Japanese delegates entered the conference without a definite program but were prepared to make a general statement of the Japanese policy toward the Chinese.

Japan's position on China's proposals is being authoritatively outlined this way:

Japan would like to see the conference adopt a set of principles which, if guaranteeing Japan's "right of existence" would generally and especially insure for China her territorial and, in so far as possible, her complete administrative integrity. At the same time these principles could affirm the doctrine of equal opportunity for all.

Japan, for the moment, has no broad program to apply to China, believing that if she sought to impose a broad platform it would lay her open to suspicion as possibly concealing some hidden purpose.

As Japan and China are members of the League of Nations, and have subscribed to making public all treaties, she is ready to refrain from secret treaties but doubts the practicability of having China participate in new treaties concerning that country. Japan, however, is agreeable to submitting conclusions to China for an opportunity to register disapproval, should she so desire.

Japan would subscribe to a declaration for the neutrality of China, but would point out that during the Russo-Japanese war owing to territorial and geographical conditions, both Russia and Japan were obliged to combat on Chinese territory, and that it might be necessary to traverse her soil again.

LARGEST CIRCULATION IN NODAWAY COUNTY

A lot more people would be in favor of Secretary Hughes' ten year holiday program if he would just strike out the word "naval."

An advertisement says, "when you smoke a cigar, you smoke more labor than tobacco." And when you wear a suit of clothes, you wear more art than wool.

Two things are necessary to relieve the unemployment situation. One is to let the men work and the other is to let your dollars work so there will be work for the men. Hoarding dollars does not contribute to good times. One dollar at work means more for the country than a thousand hid in the cellar.

The railroads have made a small cut in freight rates on certain farm products and the tire manufacturers have made another cut on auto tires. It is encouraging to get these reductions now that crops have been sold and the auto season is over. A little cut on sunshades, summer underwear and garden implements may be looked for now with reasonable confidence.

BATTLESHIP POOR.

The argument for disarmament is peace and all that peace entails. To some minds this argument carries less force than it ought. Those who would not mend the roof while the weather remains dry also might insist on knowing the exact date of the next war and the exact extent of the slaughter and ruin it would wreak before yielding to the appeal of disarmament for peace.

Not so the appeal of dollars, business and prosperity. Here is a phase without uncertainties but with direct, calculable effects. Where is the hard-headed commercial mind so hard that it cannot feel a thrill from the statement that the Hughes reduction program would mean an ultimate saving of $400,000,000 a year to the American people? Where is the bosom so numb that it will not expand to the prospect of turning back this amount into the business of the nation for constructive enterprise and general prosperity?

What would the saving of this amount mean to the nation? The Washington correspondent of the Post-Dispatch suggests some of the things it would mean. It would mean more than five times what the Federal government is now alloting the states for good roads. It would mean 25 times as much as is now being spent for the improvement of rivers and harbors. It might mean the difference between commerce and industry going at full blast and business crippled by high taxation, with consequent unemployment and accumulating miseries.

Even the steel industry, which furnishes the sinews of war, admits that armament manufacture does not constitute an important part of its business. Not that the public would be concerned if it did. But it is something to know that the steel industry, by its own declaration, is out of war politics, not for benevolent but for business reasons.

Enough figures and facts on armament economics already have been revealed to indicate that one of the things which chiefly ails the United States today is that it is battleship poor. So are other naval Powers.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

WARNING TO REPUBLICAN LEADERS

Partisan comments on election results are heavily discounted by impartial observers, for usually they are sterotyped and of little value. Returns in which one party finds striking significance the opposition dismisses as having no real importance. Interpretations of the results of Tuesday's numerous state and municipal elections present no exception to the general rule.

As a matter of fact, however, those results may have more than local bearings. In New York City, no doubt, the 5-cent-fare issue and related matters powerfully affected the vote. In New Jersey "wet" sentiment accounts largely for democratic gains in the legislature. But the republican leaders in congress and in the state councils of the party will be extremely unwise if they fail to perceive in the democratic discontent.

Certainly the present congress has done little to convince the voters of republican wisdom and efficient service. The tax burden has not been materially lightened, though when congress met last April revenue revision was admittedly the overshadowing question. The superior leadership and capable management the people expected have been conspicuously absent. The emergency tariff has proved a fiasco from the farmer's point of view, while the proposed tricky American valuation feature of the permanent tariff bill passed by the house has aroused indignation and alarm in the minds of nine-tenths of the friends of the principle of legitimate protection. The gratuitously morally offensive Panama tolls exemption bill has created a most painful impression.

Party ties have not the grip they once had. Hosts of voters are practically independent and judge party organizations by their methods and achievements. The Harding administration still enjoys the support and confidence of the people, but the republican party has been on trial and is found wanting. In the legislative results of Tuesday's elections, if not in the municipal results, there is a plain warning to the majority in congress.—Chicago Daily News.

Forumettes

Uncle Abner says it may be hard to work but it is a lot harder to be unable to work when you wish to.

Moths eat holes in good clothes; slander cuts holes in good reputations.

"I wonder if dying the hair is really a dangerous practice," said a Maryville boy the other day to a friend. "You bet it is," replied the other. "An uncle of mine did it once and in less than three months he married a red headed widow with four children."

Did you ever notice that something you get for nothing is usually worth the same thing?

Louise, the stenographer, says it is queer to her why happiness has such a peculiar way of appearing and disappearing unexpectedly.

One week in the country makes the average man strong for the city.

When a man comes to supper and tells his wife how hard he has worked all day you can bet he hasn't worked half as hard as she has.

A East Fourth street man who has several marriagable daughters has muffled the striking mechanism of all his clocks.

A Main street clothing store salesman was taken back twenty years when an old codger came in and asked for a pair of galluses. He did not know what the customer wanted.

A little East First street boy ran up to his mother when he came home from school the other evening and said, "Mother if a hungry little boy came to the back door and asked for a half of a pie would you give it to him?" Yes Willie, of course I would" the mother replied. Willie's face beamed. "All right" he said "just wait a minute and I will run around to the back door.

TRENTON WINNER IN SEMI-FINALS

DEFEATS CAMERON HIGH AT TRENTON, 7-0

EXCELSIOR SPRINGS TIES

Must Play Another Game With Smithville—King City Beats Rockport—Tarkio Wins

Trenton, Mo., Nov. 19.—Trenton defeted Cameron here yesterday 7 to 0, in the semi-finals between districts 3 and 4 in the Northwest Missouri High School association. It was one of the most exciting games of football ever played at Trenton. Trenton scored its lone touchdown in the third quarter. Several times Cameron carried the ball close to the Trenton goal line, but were held each time.

Excelsior Springs, Mo., Nov. 19.—Excelsior Springs and Smithville battled to a 0 to 0 tie yesterday in the semi-finals in district 1 and 2 of the Northwest Missouri High School association.

Fred E. Vandersloot, principal of Benton High School and football manager of the Northwest Missouri High School association, said Friday night that he was trying to make arrangements for Smithville and Excelsior Springs to play off the tie game at Smithville today.

Either Smithville or Excelsior Springs will have to play Trenton for the championship of Northwest Missouri. It is probable that the game will have to be played on neutral ground, possibly at St. Joseph on Thanksgiving day. Trenton wants the game played at Trenton, and Excelsior Springs, in event of a victory over Smithville, has asked that the championship game be played at Excelsior Springs, it is probable an effort will be made to have the game played at Smithville.

If the game between Smithville and Excelsior Springs is played off, the team that does not play Trenton in the finals may play in Maryville on Thanksgiving.

The Kansas City Post in its issue of yesterday carries a large picture of the Excelsior Springs eleven, which is coached by Verne Pickens, son of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Pickens of this city. Pickens is given credit for turning out an eleven which is making a strong bid for sectional honors.

Tarkio, Nov. 19—Tarkio High School closed its 1921 football season here yesterday with a brilliant 19-7 victory over the Shenandoah, Ia., high school. The score was 7-3 in favor of the Iowa team until the last few minutes of play, when Carpenter, Tarkio halfback, received a punt and ran thirty yards through an open field for a touchdown.

Tarkio has played nine games this season, won seven, lost one and tied one. The only defeat was at the hands of the Trenton high school. The tie game was with Maryville. Tarkio scored 271 points to its opponents' 42.

King City high school defeated Rock Port at football yesterday, 28-0. King City will play Gallatin at Gallatin on Thanksgiving day. Maryville defeated King City 14-0 early in the season.

GOOD HUSBANDS SHOULD BE HANDY ABOUT THE HOUSE

Chicago, Nov. 18.—The question of the little boy who asked his mother "Who is this man who comes here on Sunday and spanks me when I don't behave?" is not merely the idle imagining of the cartoonists, according to Carroll G. Pearse, head of the Milwaukee Normal School, a speaker before the National Homemakers' Council here.

"No, indeed," continued Prof. Pearse. "The father of to-day pays too much attention to the factory and the shop and not enough to the home."

Too many fathers, the speaker said, carelessly remark at the club that they "leave that to the wife"—meaning things to be taken care of around the home.

This, he declared, is a cowardly resort. It's as much a man's business, in the opinion of Prof. Pearse, to stoke the furnace when the janitor is off playing poker as it is the wife's to "put the kettle on."

In fact, every husband should be a janitor, as well, and a plumber and a generally handy man around the house, if he is a good husband, according to Prof. Pearse.

Game Shipments Must Be Labeled.

The Bureau of Biological Survey, United States Department of Agriculture, calls attention to the fact that under Federal law all packages in which wild ducks, geese and other migratory game birds are transported must have the name of the shipper and of the consignee and an accurate statement of the numbers and kinds of birds contained therein clearly and conspicuously marked on the outside thereof. Sportsmen shipping game birds without proper markings are liable to prosecution in the Federal court and the birds to seizure and condemnation.

The Island Nauru, in the Pacific, formerly German, now British, is estimated to contain at least 10,000,000 tons of phosphate rock available for collecting and mining. A British company is shipping 100,000 tons annually from the island.

NOT THE USUAL LANDING

America Taking Lead.

The collector of real antiques or merely the buyer of good period furniture is all too prone to forget the "Made in America."

It is the old case of the prophet without honor in his own country. For, while the American combs every antique shop for Georgian, Queen Anne, Louis Quinze, or Italian Renaissance stuff, the continental furniture dealer scurries about for American Colonial stuff.

This is the big contribution of America to the furniture world. Our output of the Colonial era compares very favorably from the standards of design and utility with any period of any other country.

Oldest College President.

Dr. M. Carey Thomas, president of Bryn Mawr college, remarked in a public address in Washington recently that she is the oldest living American college president still in office—she has presided over Bryn Mawr continuously since 1894 and has been a member of its faculty since 1885.

Miss Thomas defined education for women and prohibition as the two outstanding achievements to mankind's credit during her life of sixty-four years, and expresses confidence she would live to see the third and greatest of them all—establishment of world peace.—Washington Dispatch in the Philadelphia Public Ledger.

Next Week At the Movies

At The Empire

One of the most highly entertaining pictures booked for some time is "Buried Treasure," the Paramount Cosmopolitan starring Marion Davies, which will be shown Monday and Tuesday. Adapted from the engrossing story of the same name by F. Britten Austen, the English author, which caused nation-wide comment when it was published in Hearst's Magazine, the screen adaptation is replete with romance and spirited action. The heroine, the daughter of a Wall street capitalist, goes into a trance from which there develops a story of old Spain, of pirate ships, mutinies and battle, the characters in her own life being but reincarnations of those of long ago. The girl guides her sweetheart to an island where he locates buried treasure and they are married. Norman Kerry plays the hero splendidly and Anders Randolf is the cruel father to perfection.

On Wednesday and Thursday, Marshall Neilan will take the leading role in his latest and what is said to be his best picture entitled, "Don't Ever Marry." No advance information of the plot of this picture has been received.

A beautiful California seaside castle is the background for much of the action in Lois Weber's latest photoplay production, "To Please One Woman," which will be shown Friday and Saturday. The mansion stands on the famous beach at Santa Monica and is the property of a wealthy retired Californian. In "shooting" many of the interior scenes, Miss Weber embellished the already sumptuous furnishings with many of her own personal treasures worth thousands of dollars.

These rich surroundings serve as the background for the central figure in "To Please One Woman"—a beautiful, supremely selfish woman who is in the habit of using all men as her slaves. Taking up residence in the seaside home which is near a small town, she becomes interested in a young doctor. She fascinates him with her sophisticated charm and succeeds in luring him away from the innocent country girl to whom he is engaged. In the end, however the selfish woman is frustrated, and true romance carries off the victory.

Claire Windsor, Mona Lisa, and Edward Burns play the chief roles in "To Please One Woman," which was written and directed by Lois Weber. It is a Paramount picture.

At the Electric.

On Monday the next episode of the serial, "Son of Tarzan," will be shown, together with the regular Monday program.

On Tuesday Wm. (Bill) Fairbanks will be featured in another of the fascinating pictures of the Northwest Mounted Police, entitled "Go Get Him."

There is the great character of the Northwest Mounted Police, a man traveling alone, trailing the outlaw, his only confidant his horse. The story of a strong man torn by the elements of love versus duty. There is the softening beauty of the character of a good woman fighting for her younger brother. These are a few of the reasons why "Go and Get Him" will be welcomed by lovers of pictures of the great Northwest.

Viola Dana, the effervescent little Metro star, will appear Wednesday and Thursday in her latest success, "Life's Darn Funny," adapted from the Saturday Evening Post story, "Caretakers Within."

Nearly everybody sometimes in his life has occasion to say apropos of some unusual experience that takes one completely by surprise, "Life's Darn Funny." And it is. You will think so in this picture when you see Zoe Robert, the ambitious but struggling violinist who is about to launch on her career with a recital, when she discovers the lack of a gown may prevent her debut. As luck would have it, another artist, Clay Warwick, painter by profession and landlady-dodger by necessity, hears her weeping, comes on the scene and designs a stunning frock for her. Both later go into the costume designing business, hoping to gain some money, but things go wrong continually. Always at the eleventh hour something propitious intervenes, and in the end both are launched successfully on their artistic careers. Viola Dana has the part of little Zoe, and opposite her is Gareth Hughes.

Hoot Gibson, the hard riding young Universal star, is scheduled to spur across the screen on Friday night and keep moving until "Action," his new and smashingly dramatic western story reaches its whirlwind finish.

"Action" could not have been a better story if it had been built to Hoot Gibson's measure. The story was originally written by J. Allan Dunn and read by thousands as "The Mascotte of the Three Star." Universal bought it, assigned Jack Ford to direct, and commissioned him to get together the best cast of players in the country for the supporting roles.

On Saturday night, Miss DuPont, a new star will be seen in "The Rage of Paris," an absorbing and colorful study of Woman, with the upper strata of the exclusive set of New York, the revelry of Parisian night life and the burning sands of the Arabian desert as a dramatic background.

As Joan Coolidge, the girl who renounces her lover for money, at her mother's wish, Miss du Pont is magnificent. Coupled with an undeniable beauty, this new star possesses rare powers of insight into feminine nature, which she gives to the screen with startling dramatic skill. In the scenes in the French salon, attired in the marvelous peacock feather gown, Miss du Pont is gorgeous. Rivalling in beauty and color anything that has been presented on the screen, are the pictures of Parisian life, introduced by Jack Conway, who directed the production.

Known By His Methods

An interesting find was made in Johnson County the other day by County Agent Clough and T. S. Townsley, extension poultry specialist of the Missouri College of Agriculture. Clough says: "We went to the flock of William Barklage who had applied for certification. Little was previously known of his flock. Mr. Townsley looked the ground over after we got there and ventured the assertion that Barklage must have had college training in agriculture, and such proved to be the case. We found a remarkable bunch of White Leghorn hens. On the 17th of October, very few were molting. They were still in heavy production, a most unusual condition and 146 of the 240 were fit to be certified. Many good hens were turned down because they did not come up to the high standard set by his better birds. His flock has averaged 155 eggs per bird in eleven months.

FIFTY YEARS AGO

(Items taken from the Nodaway Democrat of Nov. 15, 1871).

The second year of the existence of the Nodaway Democrat has closed, and we desire to say a few earnest words to those indebted to us. * * * We hope our friends who owe us small sums, will make it a point to call and pay up, and save us the unnecessary work of calling on them personally.

In the county court proceedings was the following: Town of Graham incorporated with the following named persons: Trustees, J. M. Brand, Isaac Morton, J. R. Gardner, P. J. Barron and John Schmidt.

Union township divided east and west, the northern part to be known as Hopkins township, with voting precinct at Hopkins, and the southern part to be known as Union township, with voting precinct at Pickering.

Father Phillips of the Catholic church, has returned to Maryville and there will be services hereafter regularly at the church.

The telegraphic reports of the markets in St. Louis and Chicago are little changed since our last report. Hogs have probably advanced a little, being now quoted at $3.95 to $4.50.

Savannah is reported under martial law, in order to suppress chicken stealing. We have no doubt the chickens were stolen by the Ku Klux. Let Grant be notified and place Northwest Missouri under military law.

While paving is progressing reasonably well, it looks now as though they will not get through with it this fall, unless the weather is favorable until very late.

Last Friday an important change was made in one of the business firms here in which O. L. Holmes sold his entire general merchandise stock to E. W. Bishop and Jos Lager, Jr. The retiring merchant, O. L. Holmes, will remain here for some time to close up his business after which he will probably locate in a southern climate where he will be able to enjoy better health.—Clyde Times.

Movements of Enemy Revealed

"Get this straight on chinch bug migration," says A. C. Burrill, extention entomologist of the Missouri College of Agriculture. "The first bugs appearing in the spring are adults from winter quarters, and they fly to grain to lay eggs. The second movement is the grand wedding march on foot to the cornfields. The third is the 75-fold-increased, second brood which flies to hide in rubbish over winter. Let's make a fourth migration by making them go up in smoke, the cheapest and surest black-hand art known to man."

The Grasshopper And The Ant

Probably you have read the fable of the grasshopper and the ant. How the ant prepared for the winter and the grasshopper only played, and later starved.

And the moral—do you interpret it?

When you buy, do you purchase any kind of product? Or do you prepare for wise buying by reading the advertisements and selecting the article that will do you most good?

Advertised products are the best possible buys. They must give greatest value because they have a good name to protect. Manufacturers of well known articles and merchants values these names at millions of dollars. They cannot afford to jeopardize the worth of their names by selling any but the best quality at the most reasonable prices.

Buy with forethought. And read the advertisements to see what to get and where to get it.

Mrs. WILLIMAN TESTIFIES

Declares Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to Be the Best Medicine for Girls and Women

Hamilton, Ohio.—"I had such awful pains in my back I could hardly stand on my feet and I was never without a headache. If I walked up town I thought I would drop and many a time I felt so bad I had to go to bed and I was not able to do much of my housework. I would have hemorrhages every two weeks and dragging down pains. I had been feeling badly for three years and had two of the best doctors in the city, but I kept getting worse and only weighed 125 pounds. I saw your advertisement and I took eight boxes of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Tablets, four bottles Lydia E. Pinkham's Blood Medicine and your Liver Pills and noticed an improvement right away. Now I weigh 138 pounds and feel fine. Everybody tells me how well I look and asks me what I took and I always say, 'Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, the best medicine in the world for any sickness to which girls and women are subject.' I will always have a good word for your medicine and you may use my name whenever you wish."—Mrs. JOSEPH WILLIMAN, 722 South 9th Street, Hamilton, Ohio.

Fail in Swimming Test.

Fifty per cent of the men registered for freshman work in physical education at the University of Iowa failed to pass the standard swimming tests given by the department of physical education in connection with the physical examinations for all first-year men. Those who failed are being enrolled in swimming classes, and it is the boast of the department, according to Director E. G. Schroeder, that it has always been possible to teach any one registered in a swimming class how to swim.

Railroads Ask More Time

Jefferson City, Nov. 19—Attorneys representing the main line railroads of the state appeared before the state public service commission yesterday and filed an application asking the commission to defer the order respecting grain rates lower than those specified by the interstate commerce commission, until after November 20.

The railroads contend in their application that they cannot and will not put the lower rates of the Missouri commission into effect on these commodities, and argue that to do so would create a discrimination in favor of the state rates. No action was taken by the commission. It is expected, however, that it will be denied.

The increase granted by the interstate commission on grain, hay and grain products was 30 per cent. The order of the Missouri commission required that the 35 per cent increase on shipments of wheat and hay be reduced one-half, an dthat the rate on corn, oats and grain products be reduced to 50 per cent of the rate on wheat and hay.

HOW THE MOLLUSKS TRAVEL

Attach Themselves to Water Fowl and Are Thus Transported for Considerable Distances.

One of the problems that continually confronts the naturalist is to account for the distribution of identical forms of life among widely separated localities. Investigation frequently shows that this has been accomplished in many ways that appear quite simple when once discovered, although one would hardly have thought of them in advance of their actual detection.

Some interesting facts have been brought out concerning the dispersion of fresh-water mollusks, accounting for their appearance in remote and isolated ponds. It appears that water fowl play an important part in this work. Ducks have been known to carry mussels attached to their feet a hundred miles or more. Bivalve mollusks not infrequently cling to the toes of wading birds, and are thus transported for considerable distances. Even aquatic insects have been known to carry small fresh-water mollusks attached to their legs.

In such manner does Nature compel the various inhabitants of the earth to assist one another whether they will or not.

Seeks Origin of Dancing.

Can it be, in any sense, possible to conjecture that the origin of dancing came from the desire to escape from one's self, into an imaginary world?

In that case, it might also have been a form of madness, as one finds it in the Dionysian intoxication at the Attic festivals, when wine and the deities, the satyrs and the maenads, were closely linked togther, writes Arthur Symons in the Forum.

Certainly, even now, one of the best means in escaping from one's self is dancing: Under fixed conditions, the only one. The question is: Can one ever escape from one's self?

There are so many means. There is, for instance, a rapture in the dance which intoxicates every sense to a point of human infinity; that is, while one is dancing. After, comes the recoil. No rapture can ever be measured; while one endures it, it has no limits. But, alas! for one's finite nature, nothing lasts.

American Democracy.

Whoever in America desires to better his fellowmen must act by influencing their intellect. If he wishes to see no idle man and no poor man in the land, he must take care that there shall be no ignorant man. Ignorance is the mother of superstition and misery. Men are better in proportion as they are wiser. In whatever direction we look we see the improvement. The physical man is more powerful, the intellectual man is more perfect, the moral man more pure. The morality of a nation is the aggregate of the morality of the individuals. A lazy man is necessarily a bad man; an idle is necessarily a demoralized population.—John William Draper.

WILL PLAY AWAY ON TURKEY DAY

S. T. C. BEARCATS TO MARSHALL FOR LAST GAME.

PREPARE HARD SCHEDULE

Five Conference Games Already Booked for Next Year's Team.

The State Teachers Colege Bearcats will close their football season Turkey Day when they play Missouri Valley College at Marshall. This will be a conference game and if it is won by the local gridders it will make Maryville's standing in the conference at 400 per cent, which would be the highest ranking in the history of the institution barring the year of the S. A. T. C.

The promise for next year in the football line is great. Already several high school stars of the adjoining district have signified their intention of coming to Maryville and all of the squad with the exception of two members will be back. Pickens and Bland both will be graduated this year.

A heavier conference schedule is planned for next year with four games with M. I. A. A. schools already slated to be played on the home lot. The conference schools who will play here are Tarkio, Warrensburg, Central Wesleyan and Missouri Valley. No dates have been definitely set but a verbal agreement has been reached to the effect that Warrensburg will play here next year on Armistice Day.

The first game of the season will probably be with Still College at Des Moines. This is not a certainty but Coach Sprong is working with that end in view.

The Bearcats will be the guests of the Kirksville Bulldogs next year but the date has not been set.

The local gridders have been playing first class football this year. They have run up against stiff competition as the conference this year is full of fast teams. In addition the team has been handicapped since the first of the season by injuries. These started before the first game and have continued all fall.

The first victim of bad luck was Hays, a guard. He received a broken nose the first scrimmage of the year and was out for three games.

He was followed by Graham, who accidentally cut off part of his right thumb in a manual training class the day before the Kirksville game. This kept him out one game and has handicapped him all season.

In the first game of the year Mapel, a tackle, suffered torn ligaments in his ankle. This kept him out for four games.

In this game also, Earp, a tackle sprained his ankle and after that game has been unable to play a full battle.

In the Graceland game Steiger, an end, broke his nose and was laid out for three games.

The week following Bush broke the bones in one of his fingers and was out of it for two contests.

Lundt, halfback from Blair, Nebr., received a broken hand in the second game. He has been disabled since then and only yesterday had the bandages removed.

Young, an end, hurt his hand in the Central Wesleyan game and has been handicapped ever since.

In the Warrensburg game Pickens, star halfback, received a broken collar bone. He is out for good.

Allan, another half, has been out all of the past week with sickness; and Beaver, another back, sprained his ankle in scrimmage Tuesday.

None of the injuries have been serious, but they have kept men out of the game and aside from them there were the usual slight injuries attending football.

The race for the championship of the conference is clean cut this year. Missouri Wesleyan seems to be the logical winner as they are the only defeated team in the M. I. A. A. Rolla, William Jewell, Kirksville and Central have lost only one game each and there are several other schools who have only two defeats chalked up to their credit.

Some of the teams who were strong last year have undergone a slump. Westminster is not playing the ball she should and Drury is sliding the wrong way.

On the other hand Central College is snapping out of it and has lost only one game this year.

MAKES FINANCIAL REPORT OF CAMPAIGN

attend this communion service, as it will be the climax of the whole campaign. It was suggested that the members take their lunches to their respective churches, thus saving time and enabling them to drive at once from their churches to the Maryville meeting. The county president was invited to preach the communion sermon. Elders and deacons from the various churches will be used in the services. A special effort will be made to get all of the new converts to attend this service. The lower floor of the auditorium will be reserved for new members. A moving picture will be taken of the new members and also of the county board.

The final reports of additions to the church are as follows:

Pickering, 59; Hopkins, 47; Skidmore, 50; Guilford, 12; Barnard, 43; Maryville, 200; Bedison, 17; Burlington Junction, 120; Quitman, 17; Ravenwood, 53; Wilcox, 10; Clearmont, 60; Salem, 1; Bethany, 2.

Total of additions thus far, 701.

The churches all had good reports to make. Gaynor reported a Bible School reorganized and that a pastor would likely be called for one-half time work in a short time.

It was voted to secure the Rev. F. B. Taylor, district evangelist, for a meeting at Quitman to begin about December 1. Meetings are yet to be held at Arkoe and Graham it is hoped that these will be planned shortly.

PARNELL SCHOOL CLOSED ON ACCOUNT SCARLET FEVER

The Parnell School was closed Tuesday by the Board of health on account of the Scarlet Fever. There will be no school until Monday November 28. All the churches and the Opera House will remain closed during this period. Mr. Bremer has orders to keep all school children off the streets and out of business houses. We understand that there are about ten cases in town. Some have been reported in the country.—Parnell Sentinel.

A HOME FOR EVERY 4.1 PERSON IN MO.

ST. LOUIS SHOWS HOMES FOR EVERY 2.48 PERSONS.

KANSAS CITY OWNS MOST

About Half of the Homes in the Country are Rented, Leased or Tenanted.

Jefferson City, Mo., Nov. 19.—"Missouri is officially credited with containing 829,043 separate homes, dwelling places and habitations to house a population of 3,404,055 persons. The average of persons to each such place of abode is 4.1."

The State Bureau of Labor Statistics through Commissioner William H. Lewis made the above announcement today as the result of research work into recent Fourteenth decennial Federal census returns for Missouri. Further information relating to the same subject prepared for publicity by Supervisor of Statistics, A. T. Edmonston, follows:

"Nearly 33 per cent of the total dwelling places, or 272,696 are in St. Louis and Kansas City, with the other, 556347 in St. Joseph, Jefferson City, Moberly, Hannibal, and in the smaller cities and out in rural Missouri. St. Louis, to accommodate a population of 772,897 men, women and children, is credited with having 190,649 homes, or one place of habitation for each 2.48 persons. Kansas City with 82,056 dwelling places has an average of 2.53 persons to each. In considering the compilation sight must not be lost of the fact that each apartment, flat or division of a tenement house is officially classed as a place of abode.

K. C. Leads for Owned Home.

For St. Louis 76.2 per cent of the total dwelling places are rented by the week, month or year, and for Kansas City 52.4 per cent, a fact which indicates that more homes are owned in the latter city, making due allowances for the differences in population, than in the larger metropolis on the Mississippi just below the Missouri river.

For St. Louis 143,106 out of 190,649 dwelling places are rented by the occupants, and 44,700 or 23.44 per cent, are owned, leaving 2,834 with the nature of the tenure unknown.

Out of the 44,700 homes in St. Louis which are owned by the occupants 24,292 are free from encumbrances and 19,666 carrying a mortgage or a similar obligation, with 832 others classed as "unknown" when it comes to definite information along this line.

For Kansas City out of 82,056 domiciles, 52,407 are rented by the occupants, and 27,879 owned, leaving 1,720 with the tenure unknown. Of the 27,879 owned homes 10,069 are fully paid for and 17,316 encumbered leaving 493 for which information of this character is missing.

Owned Homes, the State, 1921

Of the 829,043 homes in the state, 409,068 or a little over 49.3 per cent, in the day the information covers, were either rented, leased or otherwise subject to a tenure similar in nature.

Homes reported as being fully or partly owned by the heads of the families which occupied them, numbered 401,667 or nearly 94 per cent. The tenure of the remaining 18,308 homes could not be ascertained at the time the enumeration was made and therefore are now on record under the caption of "tenure unknown."

Of the 401,667 homes in the state in 1920 reported as being owned by one of the occupants only 229,129 or 57 per cent, were entirely free of encumbrances, with 8,714 recorded as "unknown" when it came to this proposition.

A total of 163,824 homes reported as being owned by occupants were either carrying a mortgage, were not fully paid for or were otherwise loaded with some financial obligation.

ATTEND McMAHON FUNERAL IN MARYVILLE THURSDAY

Among the out-of town relatives and friends who were here for the funeral services of Mrs. James McMahon, which were held at 8:30 o'clock Thursday morning at St. Patrick's Catholic Church, were Mrs. Katherine Jordan, a sister, and Miss Dollie Dolan, a niece, both of Kansas City; Mrs. W. A. Smith of Camp Meade, Maryland, a niece; Mrs. Rigney of Port Huron, Mich., and Charles Daugherty of Kansas City, a brother. Mr. McMahon, who accompanied the body to Maryville, and Mrs. Smith left last night for their homes, while the other out-of-town relatives left Thursday night. Mr. McMahon is a nephew of P. H. Gorman, 1215 Lawn Avenue.
